Flames Cause $3,000 Loss at Antioch Garage

One Car and Paint Shop Equipment Destroyed in Blaze Tuesday

A loss estimated at $3,000 was caused by fire at Rosing & Son's Antioch Garage here Tuesday morning at 10:30 when a blowtorch started flames in the paint shop. Several containers of chemicals were used during the first few minutes in an effort to keep the flames under control until fire trucks arrived.

The entire contents of the paint shop, including stock, equipment and one car were totally destroyed. A brick wall separating the shop from the main room of the garage served to keep the fire confined to the southeast corner of the building.

One of the employees was welding a fender of a car when the flames fired the gas tank, which caused a slight explosion and quick spread of the fire to all parts of the room. Other than slight burns and smoke-filled lungs, none of the firemen or employees were injured.

Legion Announces Carnival Dates

Annual Summer Festival Set for August 5, 6 and 7

The annual summer carnival sponsored by the Antioch American Legion post will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 5, 6, and 7.

The dates were set last night at a meeting of the local Legion when a contract was signed with Skinner & Ruggles Amusement company of Crystal Lake to furnish the rides and booths for the big three-day show. The Sunday date is omitted this year on account of transportation and labor shortage.

Commander Heath appointed the following committee to have charge of the carnival: John Horton, chairman; Floyd Horton, Roman Vos, James Waters, Harry Messing, Vincent Nedbal and Walter Hills. The Legion Auxiliary will assist, with Mrs. C. L. Heath, chairman, Mrs. John Horton, Mrs. Walter Hills, and Mrs. Floyd Horton serving on the committee.

To Aid War Effort

While a great many entertainment events have been discontinued for the duration of the war, the local Legion, with the encouragement of other community groups feels bound to carry on with the annual show, since the Legion, essentially a service organization, is contributing liberally both in effort and cash to hasten the day of victory. The Legion's war time activities are necessary and commendable, and it merits the support of all patriotic citizens.

Commander Heath named a nominating committee of past commanders to draft a slate of candidates for the annual election to be held in August. Serving on this committee are: Walter Hills, James Waters, Roman Vos, Vincent Nedbal and Ernest Glenn.

Seek 400 Blood Donors Here

At the request of Roman Vos, commander of the Antioch Civilian Defense committee, the Legion voted to sponsor the bringing of a Red Cross blood bank donor unit to Antioch, probably the latter part of July.

Efforts to bring the unit to Antioch for the accommodation of donors in the communities of Antioch, Lake Villa and Fox Lake got under way several days ago when representatives of the Chicago Red Cross inspected available quarters here, including St. Peter's hall and the Antioch High school. A favorable report would be made, the representatives said.

While the traveling unit can handle about 150 donors a day, it was stressed that at least 400 should be signed up because a part of that number will be rejected for physical reasons, another percentage will fail to show up due to transportation difficulties or other causes. The Red Cross will bring doctors and nurses who will have the assistance of the local Red Cross Surgical Dressing unit members, and also the help of the Legion Auxiliary and Rescue squad.

Pledge cards will be available at Antioch stores this week-end, and also in Lake Villa and Fox Lake, Vos said.

The Legion also will sponsor the Junior Drum and Bugle corps in their appearance at the annual carnival of music at Riverview park, Chicago, during the first week of September.

3,600 Old Silk Hose Go To War

First Shipment 107 Pounds; High School P. T. A. Sponsors Collection

What is thought to be the first shipment of old silk hose from Lake County was sent this week to the Defense Supplies corporation where they will be used for the manufacture of powder bags by the munitions industry. The shipment consisted of 107 pounds, or about 1,800 pairs of hose.

The collection of old silk hose was undertaken by the High School PTA several months ago at the suggestion of C. L. Kuttel, chairman of the Antioch Township Salvage committee. The project will continue for the duration of the war, according to Kuttel, who urged the co-operation of all citizens of the community.

Boxes for silk, rayon and nylon stockings are located in Williams Department store, Antioch, 5 & 10c store, and Marianne's Dress shop.

Legion Collects Records For Our Fighting Men

New Records for Old Will Go to Armed Forces Everywhere

Preparations for the American Legion's drive for old phonograph records which is to start July 3, continuing to July 31, got under way this week with the appointment of committees and designating of collection centers throughout the area.

Purpose of the campaign is to collect a quota of 3000 records in this community as a part of the nationwide campaign for 37,500,000 records. These records will be collected by the American Legion and sold for their scrap value by Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc., a non-profit organization of famous musical artists. Proceeds will be used to purchase new records and phonograph players for every American Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Corps, and Coast Guard camp, base, post and station throughout the world.

Post Commander L. C. Heath, director of the campaign, named Floyd Horton committee chairman. Until a wider organization is effected before the start of the drive on July 3, old records may be left at the Antioch Township library or at the Antioch News office, Horton said today. Other collection centers will be arranged for later. In the meantime all persons who have old records to donate to the cause and wish to have picked up may call Antioch 263-M.

LAUNDRY COMPANY OPENS OFFICE HERE

Grande Cleaners, laundry and cleaning firm that has served this community from headquarters in Libertyville since 1928, this week opened an office in Antioch in the Keulman building at 915 Main st.

The local service will be cash and carry, the pick-up and deliveries being made at the company's office, according to M. L. Behm, proprietor. In view of the shortage of help, especially in the laundry industry, Mr. Behm believes the establishment of the Antioch office will prove a great convenience to residents of this community.

Mrs. Mary Hook is the local manager.

F. B. SWANSON BUYS SAVANAH SHOW HOUSE

Fred B. Swanson, owner and proprietor of the Antioch theatre, this week acquired his third show house in Savannah, Ill., when he bought the new Deluxe Times theatre there. For several years he has owned and operated the Webb and Orpheum theatres in that city.

The Times is a beautiful new theatre with over seven hundred seats and is known as "the Pride of the Mississippi Valley."

NEWS READER FOR 40 YEARS

The News has among its readers many who have been regular subscribers for a great many years. One of them is F. J. Woolner, who called at the office one day last week to pay his 41st subscription. When Mr. Woolner first subscribed for the paper in 1903, it was published by the late J. J. Burke who established it in 1886.

CHICAGO SAILOR TELLS STORY OF BATTLE SHOCK

On furlough after having felt the shock of battle in a half dozen naval engagements in the Pacific, Robert C. Lindell, 22, second class machinist's mate, is now the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lindell, of Grass Lake road at Bluff Lake.

The final edition of Tuesday's Chicago Tribune carried the following story of Lindell's rescue from the sea after the sinking of the Yorktown in the battle of Midway, last June.

Says the Tribune: The men who fight below deck seldom hear the din of big guns or the roar of attacking planes, but they feel the shock of the battle, Robert Cecil Lindell, 22 years old, a second class machinist's mate aboard the lost aircraft carrier Yorktown, said yesterday when he arrived home on his first visit since he enlisted in July, 1940. He is the son of Swan Lindell, 1100 North Dearborn street.

Lindell, a graduate of Wells High school, was rescued from the sea after the Yorktown was torpedoed and sunk in the battle of Midway, June 4, 1942. "We felt the shock of the torpedo hits in the bottom of the engine room, but we had no idea the ship was crippled until we got our orders to abandon it," he said. "During a battle my station was at a water feed pump and I never saw action, but I felt it plenty."

Lindell served aboard the Yorktown during the Marshall and Gilbert Island, Coral Sea, and Solomon Island engagements before the battle of Midway. He said 21 of his shipmates were killed by a bomb which fell near the stack and penetrated the ship to the top of an armored deck above the engine room.

Mr. and Mrs. Rojewski have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dick Moran and other relatives and friends here during his furlough. Upon his return Bruno will become acting chief petty officer. During the first war he served with the 20th engineers.

Rojewski will be remembered here as the builder of beautiful Pasadena Gardens, a mile north of Antioch, which he operated for several years before leaving for Florida seven years ago. The family home in Florida is in Hollywood, where Bruno is a member of the American Legion and is past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Rescue Squad Commended By Antioch Board

Two New Members Are Received by Group at Semi-Annual Meeting

A resolution commending the Antioch Rescue squad for the splendid work it has been doing was adopted by the village board of trustees at the semi-annual meeting of the group held Tuesday night at the squad headquarters.

The board of trustees of the Rescue squad consists of the members of the village board and officers of the squad. Semi-annual meetings are held on the third Tuesday in June and December.

The trustees heard the reading of the minutes of several meetings. The report of the treasurer showed a substantial balance on hand with all bills paid.

Makes 33 Calls in 6 Months

The report of Captain Herman Holbek revealed that during the period from Dec. 15, last, to June 1 the squad responded to 33 calls, which included eight cases of heart attack; 16 hospital cases; 1 poisoning; 8 accidents; and assistance in the Fox Lake area in the case of a heart attack and drowning.

The squad listed equipment valued in excess of $3,000. The truck is equipped with almost every known device for rendering first aid and to give speedy help to those in need. The men, all of whom have had intensive training in first aid, serve without pay.

Of course, the maintenance of equipment, as well as the purchase of new items, requires cash. In order to meet such expense, the members from time to time promote some type of entertainment for the public. Thus, through the efforts of the members themselves and the support of the citizens of the community they have been able to defray all expenses besides having a snug reserve, as the treasurer's report revealed.

Two New Members

Henry Rentner and William Baned were accepted as reserve members of the squad to serve until other active members return from military service. The squad has lost six of its members to the armed forces.

A guest at the meeting was Pvt. Henry Quadenfeld who is home on a furlough from Fort Snelling, Minn. He was a member of the squad for a year before leaving for the army.

Pvt. Quadenfeld told the group of the benefit of his first aid training here had been to him during his brief army service. His army questionnaire revealed that he had training in first aid, so soon after entering the service he was assigned to teach a class of army recruits in first aid methods.

WILLIAM KESTER, 82, OF SALEM SUCCUMBS

William F. Kester, 82, well known resident of Salem, Wis., for many years, died at the Kenosha hospital early today.

He was born in Burlington, Wis., Feb. 27, 1861, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kester. During his infancy the family lived at New Munster. As a young man, he moved to Nebraska where he was engaged in farming for many years. Twenty-five years ago he moved to Salem where he operated a hardware store. He retired several years ago and had been making his home with his nephew, Arthur Feldkamp at Salem. He was a member of the Bristol Masonic lodge.

He is survived by a brother and a sister; Herman Elfers of Salem, and Mrs. Henry Feldkamp also of Salem, and by several nieces and nephews.

FISH STORY

Angling in Lake Marie yesterday afternoon, Sgt. Otto Palaske and his brother-in-law, Joe Koukol, pulled out three pickereel measuring 32 inches, 31 inches and 19 inches, respectively. Otto admits he is not much of a fisherman, and he was using a rod and reel for the first time, so there was a slight case of "buck fever" when the 32 inch whale tried to pull him out of the boat. The boys brought the fish to Antioch—just in case there happened to be any doubting Thomases among the residents.

Sgt. Palaske is enjoying a furlough here. He is stationed at Paris, Texas.

Why America Is Short of Food

(Chicago Herald-American)

In his speech before the American Farm Bureau Federation analyzing the problems of the food front, former President Hoover spoke with a background familiar to most of the American people.

Mr. Hoover administered the food program of the nation in the last war, with the following results as he now appraises them:

"We steadily increased our food production.

"We shipped MORE food to our allies monthly than is being shipped today.

"We had no local famines in the United States as we are having now.

"We had no black markets.

"We had a people zealous in a moral crusade to help win the war with food, instead of lots of people trying to beat the game."

Moreover, Mr. Hoover reminds us:

"Including the Department of Agriculture, we had only 23,000 paid federal employees connected with food. Today we have over 120,000."

Finally he says:

"Food prices rose only 17.9 per cent in the 17 months after we declared war in 1917. Washington statisticians admit a rise of 24.3 per cent in the 17 months since Pearl Harbor. The housewives will admit a rise of at least 35 per cent."

So Mr. Hoover has a background in wartime food administration that gives him AUTHORITY.

And against this authoritative background he now presents some astounding facts.

Foremost among these facts is this:

"In the seven years between the harvests of 1932 and 1939, through government restrictions, the acreage in 17 leading crops harvested WAS REDUCED BY 47 MILLION ACRES.

"These 17 crops are about 95 per cent of our whole harvested area. . . .

"Yet payments to farmers to RESTRICT PRODUCTION were not all removed for the two plantings of 1941 and 1942.

"By 1942 we had recovered only nine million of these 47 million LOST ACRES in the 17 leading crops."

Do we need to look any further for the explanation of our present food shortages?

The New Deal not only retired 47 million acres from production, as Mr. Hoover reports—thereby reducing 17 leading crops below the actual needs of the country.

The New Deal actually plowed under growing crops, and slaughtered growing livestock in addition.

In consequence, even in peacetime a large proportion of the American people were ill-fed—as the New Deal has often acknowledged, without admitting its responsibility.

Hence, with the coming of war and the necessity for supporting vast armed forces of our own and even more vast populations in allied and reconquered lands, our food shortages are understandably acute.

What about the future? According to Mr. Hoover: "As a foundation for 1944 (it being too late to do anything effective about the 1943 harvest because planting is mostly done), we must get all that lost 47 million acres BACK INTO CULTIVATION.

"To do that, our authorities must decide whether they will spare the manpower and farm machinery manufacture from other activities. And we must begin now, or AGAIN it will be too late and too little.

"If those in power and those not in power shall have wisdom, implacable resolve, a spirit of sacrifice, the fields of America will blossom with an abundant life that will save vast human life in a world given to human destruction," says Mr. Hoover.

But the condition of this is that we must first divest ourselves of the political fallacies which stultify us. And until we do this, there will continue to be food shortages, to the ultimate point of famine.

Taking Politics out of War

Several weeks ago, to take politics out of the war, Chairman Harrison E. Spangler, of the Republican National Committee, suggested that President Roosevelt declare himself out of the race and devote his entire time to winning the war. Mr. Spangler's proposal came as one New Dealer after another was pushing the President's Fourth Term candidacy.

Immediately the bureaucrats became alarmed that the "meal ticket" might accept the soundness of Mr. Spangler's proposal. They found seventeen reasons why their jobs should not be endangered. But now comes Chairman Spangler again with clear-cut reasoning to support his contention.

"So long as Mr. Roosevelt continues to be a candidate for a Fourth Term he will be two people," Mr. Spangler said. "One person is the President of the United States, toward whose office men owe respect and honor. The other person is a politician running for office, rightly regarded as a party partisan. As a candidate he must step down from his high place and subject himself to the disadvantages of any other candidate. He cannot cling to the immunities which properly belong to the President of the United States.

"A candidate has no immunities. While he seeks office he is a private citizen soliciting votes. He cannot have his cake and eat it, too. From the instant he seeks office, he becomes two men: one President Roosevelt; the other Franklin Roosevelt, of Dutchess County, New York, a mere man running for office."

"By the speaking of one word," Mr. Spangler added, "the little, two-letter word, NO, he will become everybody's President. By saying NO he will be able to act without fear of favor. President Roosevelt will not have to carry Candidate Roosevelt around on his back."

No Magic in Bureaucracy

New frontiers of accomplishment that promise not only better living for us, but for the peoples of the world, are seen for the future by Robert P. Barbour, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, if opportunity and rewards are not denied and "if government keeps its hands out of business and industrial enterprise that can be handled capably by private citizens."

Speaking at the Board's 77th annual meeting, Mr. Barbour called attention to warnings by Congressional leaders of the dangerous expansion of government by bureaucratic edict and directive, and said: "Only an informed and vocal public can kill this unhealthy growth, which, in so many countries of the world, has made the individual little more than a cipher. Let no one believe any government has magic enough to give something for nothing."

Mr. Barbour cited a world trend to minimize the importance of the individual and to magnify the importance of the state, with resulting loss of personal liberty and initiative. "Even in this country there has been growth of a philosophy that would have us believe we have outgrown the American way of life, that government bureaus and super-agencies can plan for and direct the individual better than he can for himself; a philosophy which tells young people that the opportunities that their forefathers enjoyed have gone and that the government must plan and do for them."

It is a healthy sign when business and political leaders are alert to recognize a menace to freedom on the home front as well as the battle front.

Today A NORTHWOOD'S TREE

A few months hence...
A Letter From Home!

PAPER... simple, every day paper... what an important part it plays in our lives... Every business finds it indispensable... Our daily news is brought to us on its surface... It is the method of communication between millions of people... A sheet of paper with a message from home cheers many a fighting man in far parts of the world.

...Some day the peace to come will be signed—on a sheet of paper! Yes, paper is important to all of us. For many years the SOO LINE has been one of the main outlets for pulpwood produced in the great northwoods. The SOO LINE brings the pulpwood to the mills and is an important agency in transporting all types of finished paper from the mills to the great industrial centers.

Last year we moved thousands of tons of both pulpwood and paper. As in the movement of all commodities necessary to the speedy conclusion of the war, the SOO LINE will continue to extend every cooperation to the paper industry.

THE MAYOR HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Hale and hearty, despite his 70 years, Mayor George B. Bartlett of Antioch experienced real enjoyment last Sunday at the celebration of his natal day when a number of relatives and friends called at the Bartlett home at 1084 S. Main street.

The day would have passed with little notice on the part of the mayor had not his friends remembered it for him. He was somewhat surprised.

Since his retirement from the oil business here several years ago, Mr. Bartlett has been busy with his job as mayor, and serving also as township school treasurer. He has given much time to war time activities and this year, as usual, has a garden. However his official duties and other work bears lightly on the mayor, whose three score and ten years have taught him to take life in stride.

Guests from out of town present at the Bartlett home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ball, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schaezlein, and daughter, Joan, all of Villa Park; Mr. and Mrs. William Johns and daughter, Sue, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick, Jr., and sons, William and Ronnie, of Glen Ellyn, and George Bartlett, Jr., USN, Glenview, Ill.

Father McKay will attend an Ordination of a classmate, the Rev. Dudley Hopp, assistant at St. Paul's Cathedral, Fond du Lac, Wis., on Saturday morning, June 17, 1943.

At the request of Bishop Wallace E. Conkling, Episcopal Bishop of Chicago, Father McKay, along with the other priests of the Diocese will meet at Racine next Sunday evening and will remain until Wednesday evening. The meeting is a three day conference of a study of church affairs; the Sisters of St. Mary, from Kemper Hall, Kenosha, will provide the accommodations.

Reveals Interesting Life Story of the Late Fred W. Masters

Interesting facts regarding the life and career of the late Fred W. Masters, 81, who succumbed at his home at Crooked Lake Oaks, on June 4, was related by his son, Charles Masters, of Chicago.

The son of a quartermaster sergeant in the British navy, he was born in the East Indies on April 17, 1862, while his parents were on a world cruise with the English fleet. His father suffered a stroke and never lived to complete the trip around the world.

During his working years Mr. Masters followed the trade of brick mason. He was employed by the city of Chicago until his retirement 13 years ago. He and Mrs. Masters had established their summer home at Crooked Lake 15 years ago and since his retirement they had made it their permanent home.

Funeral services were held here at the Strang funeral chapel on June 7, and interment was in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret; son, Charles, of Chicago; daughter, Mabel (Mrs. Alvin) Rice, Waukegan; three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP WOMAN, 71, DIES

Hold Funeral Wednesday for Mrs. Nettie Schonscheck

Mrs. Nettie Schonscheck, 71 years, widow of the late Adolph Schonscheck, and a native of Bristol township, Kenosha county, was buried last Wednesday from the Methodist church at Bristol.

She was born in Bristol on Dec. 8, 1871, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bohn. In March of 1889 she was united in marriage to Adolph Schonscheck. She resided on a farm in Bristol township for many years. Several years ago she moved to the village of Bristol where she has made her home since that time.

Mrs. Schonscheck was a member of the Methodist church in Bristol. She was a devoted mother, admired by all who knew her.

She is survived by two sons and three daughters, Frank and Roy Schonscheck of Bristol, Mrs. John Malicki of Bristol, Mrs. Glenn Knapp of Grims, Wis., Mrs. Emil Pagenkopf of Kenosha, and by eight grandchildren and one great grandchild.

She is also survived by two brothers and three sisters, Fred Bohn of Bristol, William Bohn of Pleasant Prairie, Mrs. Otto Kastin of Kenosha, Mrs. William Schrieber of Union Grove and Mrs. Charles Pohlman of Bristol. Her husband preceded her in death on September 28, 1933.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS O. K. AS FARM HELP, CO. FARM BUREAU STATES

Although a large number of farmers have already employed high school boys for farm work, there are a considerable number of boys still available, according to the Lake County Farm Bureau, which is functioning as an employment agency in the interest of farmers of the county.

In most cases farmers are finding these boys working out very satisfactorily. Recently when one farmer was asked how he liked the boy he got from the city, he replied, "Why, he's nearly as good as any hired man I ever had. He can do most anything. What he can't do, it doesn't take me very long to teach him. I am well satisfied with the boy I got."

Although every farmer who employs a city boy may not be as fortunate as the above farmer, nevertheless, many of these boys which are available for farm work can make a real contribution if given the opportunity.

Farmers in need of help and who cannot secure experienced men may secure a high school boy by calling or writing the Farm Bureau office, Grayslake, Ill. A call will not obligate any farmer to hire anyone, but he will have an opportunity to interview boys wanting work on farms.

Those interested should not wait, since boys who are ambitious will get employment elsewhere.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL TO CHICAGO MAN

Stricken with a heart attack while dining with his wife at the Adam and Eve night club, Grand avenue and Wilson road, Sunday night, Harvey Blendow, 34, of Chicago, died while seated at the table.

The Blendows were listening to the music furnished by the orchestra in which the young man's father was playing when Blendow succumbed. The son of the musician had come to Lake Marie with his wife and daughter to spend the summer at his parents' home. He had been in ill health for some time and it was hoped the vacation at the lake might prove beneficial. The body was taken to Chicago.

Corn—Home-Canned to Keep!

"Corn, a favorite food of man, beast, and bacteria, is the victim of dense propaganda and I am not talking about war," Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company, made the above statement and went on to explain, "Persons who refuse to take the time and trouble to understand corn, defend their canning failures by claiming that it refuses to keep. The truth is, corn is more than willing to be canned, but is doomed to spoilage unless right tactics are used, because it has no acid to protect it against the invasion of bacteria. Tactics? Why," says Miss Kimbrough, "they can be summed up in one sentence: I. e., learn what is to be done, begin at the right time, keep things moving, and turn on the heat."

The first thing to be done is to get jars, lids, rubbers, and canner ready. If you have no pressure cooker, get along with a water-bath canner. Examine every jar and lid to see that it is in good condition—remember glass-top seals and two-piece metal vacuum seal caps won't work unless the top edges of the jars are perfect. Wash everything clean; cover jars, glass lids and zinc caps with lukewarm water and put on the stove to heat. Cover vacuum seal lids and rubbers with boiling water and leave until needed. When everything is ready, gather the corn—bring in no more than needed for one canner full. Keep in mind that canning too much too late is a common cause of spoilage. Place the corn on a board and use a strong sharp knife to cut the husks (shucks to you in the Middle West and South) off at each end just where the corn begins and ends. There shouldn't be any worms if you have followed Victory garden directions, but if there are worms in the tassel end, cut deep enough to leave them with the husks. The husks will come off easily and bring most of the silks with them.

Examine every ear of corn and use only those having plump, glossy, juice-filled kernels. Remove all silks; rinse the corn and cut it from the cob. One or more cuttings may be made, but scrapings should not be used unless processing can be done in a pressure cooker because the scrapings make a thick mass that heats through slowly. Cover the corn with boiling water, using about half as much water as corn; cook five minutes; then pour immediately into clean, hot jars. A generous amount of water helps the corn heat through quickly and aids in preventing its sugar from caramelizing and causing a brownish color. Add one teaspoon salt to the quart and seal jars according to manufacturer's directions. Then put into the canner and process.

If possible, use pint jars, as they heat through more rapidly. The quicker the jars can be heated through, the more certain the destruction of bacteria. Process pints and quarts 70 minutes at 10 pounds pressure or by boiling 3½ hours in water-bath. Remove the jars from the canner as promptly as possible after processing; finish sealing all jars that require rubber rings; set jars as far apart as possible on folded newspaper or cloth so they can cool quickly, but be sure they are not where a breeze will strike them.

The jars should be examined after twelve hours in order to make sure they are sealed. To do this, remove bands from glass top seals and metal vacuum seal caps (leave the bands off when the jars are put away). Test the glass top seals by pulling gently on the lids with the finger tips. Vacuum seals are tested by pressing down on them with the fingers—if sealed, they won't move under this pressure. "Lightning" type are tested by holding upside down and watching for leaks. There won't be any leaks if instructions are followed and there won't be any spoilage if you keep in mind that Vigilance means Victory. Furthermore, you will never know how good canned corn can be until you have tasted your own home-canned brand.

People's Responsibility

Eight billion dollars of the 13 billion dollars in this Second War Loan Drive must come from non-banking sources, so the responsibility for the bulk of this 13-billion-dollar drive rests with the American public. Indications are that Americans generally need only to be reminded of this responsibility and how much they should lend their government in order to reach this goal. Americans are backing up their fighting men on the battle fronts. They are supporting the Second War Loan. "They give their lives... You lend your money."

Private FC LeRoy Maleck, Camp Rucker, Ala., closes his letter to the News with these words: "Thank you, and instead of saying 'Keep 'em Flying' I'll say, 'Keep 'em Informed.' Maleck is with the Med. Detach. 137th Inf. He is now taking ranger training. He says it's 'hot as blazes down here, but the swimming is great.'"

Thank you, Pfc. Maleck, and we'll try to keep them informed as you suggest. Remember, the News gets a lot of help—from the Antioch Legionnaires, who themselves have been "through the mill," and from citizens and relatives of service men, who are all anxious to get the big job done.

Pvt. Carl Wurster has returned to Camp Grant after a seven-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wurster and family at Lake Villa.

Ingleide Boy Held Prisoner by Axis

An Ingleide boy, previously reported as missing in action, is now known to be a prisoner of the Japs and Germans, according to a list released this week by the War Department. He is Pfc. Robert C. Buelow, brother of Mrs. Beatrice Kuper of Ingleide, who raised her brother, as their parents died when he was three years old.

Buelow was taken prisoner Feb. 17 in the German drive on Kasserine pass, according to Mrs. Kuper. Prior to that he had landed in November, 1942, with the commandos when the Allied forces invaded North Africa. Before taking part in the invasion he was stationed in Ireland. The first information his sister received was that he was missing and later the government notified her that he was a prisoner. She has sent him a cablegram through the Vatican. Buelow lived at Seymour, Ind., before enlistment.

BIGGEST COACHING JOB. WRITES ENS. WOLFINBARGER

U. S. NAVY PRE-FLIGHT SCHOOL CHAPEL HILL, N. C. June 7, 1943

The Antioch News, Antioch, Ill. Dear Sir:

At this time I want to express my sincere thanks for my copy of the Antioch News. It really gives me quite an enjoyment. The news from the home front, about the students who are now engaged in this big fight is one of my great concerns. I know Louie Nielsen is doing a great job with his weekly gifts to the boys in service. Just keep it up, Louie, I know how they appreciate it.

I feel I have one of the biggest coaching jobs I have ever had. My job is to teach Naval air pilots the techniques and fundamentals of boxing, to instill self assurance in a cadet so he can defend himself with his own two fists, and above all develop courage, self reliance and endurance which every pilot must have. From what I have seen, an air cadet must be a top individual, and my heart sings out to the students who have signed for this certain program. The boys of Antioch can do it. Again thanks for everything.

Sincerely,
C. A. Wolfenbarger.

ANTIOCH BOYS IN MANY CAMPS

"I have met some one from Antioch in all three camps I have been in," writes Pfc. Leo Buchta from Camp Grant where he is taking his final four weeks of training. "Boy, the weather here at Camp Grant sure is a lot different from that in Utah. I am still in the air force, and now have a first class rating. I am going to a technical school here and have about four weeks to go. There are only a few men in the Air Force here." Buchta thanks the News and says he likes to get the paper. ## What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Actual experience on the world's war fronts has proved the collapsible boat an essential safety feature for both Naval and land based planes. They are made of rubberized material, easily inflated.

At the Battle of Midway an Army Lieutenant, after bombing a carrier, was forced to bail out of his bomber. He was able to get a "fish eye" view of the entire battle from his collapsible boat and was later picked up by an American plane. Your purchase of War Bonds with at least ten percent of your income every payday will help protect the lives of men who are dying for you. Get behind them today. U. S. Treasury Department

Ease Regulations On Farm Supplies

Real Dirt Farmers Now Find It Easier to Buy Equipment

Any one of a large number of farm supplies may now be purchased by farmers without approval of the County Farm Rationing committee, according to Chester A. Faulkner, chairman of the Lake county USDA War Board. This applies to certain items or groups of items totaling less than $25.00 covered by a new WPB regulation effective June 7. A simple certificate that he is a farmer and needs the item now in the operation of his farm, signed by the purchaser, is all the dealer will need to make the sale.

The certificate is not a WPB form. It may be furnished by the dealer or written out by the farmer himself. Such certification will enable the farmer to buy up to $25.00 worth of any of the items on the list. He may buy more than that if the certificate is approved by his county Farm Rationing Committee.

A farmer is defined as "a person who engages in farming as a business, by raising crops, livestock, bees or poultry." The definition also includes custom operators. It does not include a person who just raises food or other agricultural products entirely for his own or family use.

The order provides for emergency action by manufacturers and distributors, under direction from WPB, to get into retail channels without delay adequate quantities of some 66 items urgently needed by farmers. The 66 items, therefore, are to be treated on an emergency basis. The list includes such items as auger bits, batteries, chains, drills, forks, grease guns, horse collars, knives, pails, pipe, pipe fittings, shovels, wire and wrenches. In addition to the 66 items in the emergency program, there are 78 additional items in the long-range program.

A call or card to the local county USDA War Board office can get the information as to what items are included in the new order.

Gov. Green Approves Howell-Paddock Bill; Aid to School Children

Governor Green has approved Senate Bill 237, by Senator J. Will Howell, West Frankfort, and Senator Ray Paddock, Mount Lake, making a deficiency appropriation of $282,000 for a deficiency in school transportation. The bill has the support of the Illinois Education Association.

The passage of the Howell-Paddock bill will make money available to the schools for the deficiency in transportation of school pupils for the school year 1940-41, and will prevent a deficiency in the money available for transportation purposes for the school year 1942-1943.

Don't spend your pay in competition with your neighbors for scarce civilian goods. Save, America, and you will save America from black markets and runaway inflation. Buy more Bonds every payday. How many bonds? Figure it out yourself.

FDR: Retaliation if Axis Uses Gas; Allied Confidence Rises as Air-Sea Forces Pound Mediterranean Islands; Heavier Taxes Will Fight Inflation

EUROPE:

'Mellow Light'

Even as Prime Minister Winston Churchill had declared that the "mellow light of victory" was already playing on the Allies, the Axis had been tensely alert for the long-promised invasion of Europe.

Axis communiques had early reported attempted Allied landings on "stepping stone" islands between Africa and Italy. First of these was the Rome and Berlin radio reports of a Commando movement on the tiny island of Lampedusa, bordering the Tunisian coast. Then came the Rome communique announcing that the garrison defending beleaguered Pantelleria had been called on to surrender by Allied forces. Pantelleria had experienced a pounding such as even Malta had not suffered, for here the devastating Allied bomb onslaughts from the air had been accompanied by withering bombardment of Italian positions by unopposed Allied naval forces.

Never before during the war had Prime Minister Churchill spoken so confidently as during his report to parliament concerning the European situation in which he described the amphibious operations of a "peculiar complexity" against the enemy. Concerning the Allied air offensive which observers had termed the actual first phase of the invasion, he declared that nothing will turn the Allies from their intention of accomplishing "the complete destruction of our foes by bombing from the air, in addition to all other means."

TAXES:

New Levies Ahead

With the pay-as-you-go bill now operative under presidential approval, congressional leaders began consideration of additional tax sources to meet the administration's request that new tax measures be undertaken as a means of closing the inflationary gap caused by the nation's tremendous purchasing power.

While President Roosevelt had left up to congress the type of new taxes to be adopted before summer recess, he expressed his opposition to a general sales tax on the grounds that it would impose too heavy a burden on the poorer people. While a compulsory savings plan is not necessary now, the President indicated that ultimately a combination of enforced savings and taxes would be required to meet his original budget request for $16,000,000,000 in new revenue for fiscal 1944.

The Federal Reserve board recently estimated excess purchasing power at $35,000,000,000.

SUBSIDIES:

Grange Head Demurs

Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange, predicted that if the government employs subsidy payments to roll back food prices, "the nation is headed directly for inflation and inevitable chaos."

The farm leader added that in his belief, a system of price controls by subsidy would lead to a food shortage for America and her allies. Testifying before a senate agricultural subcommittee, the Grange master predicted that a 10 per cent roll back in the retail prices of butter and meats, already ordered, would discourage production. "There are indications already," he said, "that the butter and milk output are being reduced substantially." Mr. Goss contended that instead of the present price control system as a control of inflation, an effort should be made to bring supply and demand into balance.

GAS:

FDR Warns Axis

President Roosevelt served blunt notice on the Axis that the use of poison gas against any one of the United Nations would result in swift and full retaliation by the United States with "terrible consequences" to enemy munitions centers, seaports and other military objectives.

This was the third time in 12 months the President had warned the Axis that the use of gas would be a fatal boomerang. He said evidence was "being reported with increasing frequency from a variety of sources" that the enemy powers were making "significant preparations" indicative of an intention to use poisonous or noxious gases.

Observers who noted that the President's warning was similar in character to one issued by the British government recently, believed he had both Germany and Japan in mind.

RUSSIA:

Tactics in Reverse

Using tactics in which the Allies had given them bitter lessons in Western Europe, the Nazis employed their waning air force in massed bombing attacks against Russian armament factories.

Typical of this effort were the attempts to wreck the giant Gorki works, 250 miles east of Moscow. While German and Soviet communiques differed on the extent of the damage, both agreed that the attacks were of a ferocious nature. Moscow radio admitted that casualties and some damage were caused, but maintained that German reports were grossly exaggerated.

Retaliatory raids were made on a big scale by Russian bombers which attacked the Urecha junction on the Bryansk-Gomel railroad, blowing up munitions dumps and fuel stores.

Meanwhile in the midst of counter claims about opposing losses in the Caucasus, a German transoceanic agency broadcast predicted a big scale Russian attack on Novorossisk.

TIGHTER BELTS:

Forecast for '44

Somber warning that American civilians may have to tighten their belts in 1944 was sounded by the bureau of economics of the U. S. department of agriculture.

The bureau in a review of the current situation said that while there are enough rationed foods on hand, together with expected production to maintain present eating levels for the remainder of 1943, the outlook for 1944 may not be so favorable.

The review stated that vegetable production is running about 13 per cent below last year; that early freezes have cut crops of apricots, cherries, peaches, plums and prunes materially below 1942. Supplies of eggs next fall and winter "will be considerably below current levels," the review added, while livestock may be adversely affected.

DRIVING BAN:

For All U. S.?

Extension to the entire nation of the pleasure driving ban and other restrictions on motoring in 12 eastern states was predicted by Maj. Jubal R. Parton, transportation director in the petroleum administration.

Specifically, Major Parton said that the petroleum administration had been considering for some time the advisability of halting pleasure driving in Middle Western states and that such action for the entire nation may be looked for soon.

ARGENTINA:

Neutral for Present

The kaleidoscopic revolt in Argentina that had produced two new presidents in almost as many days had not shown the same speedy results with respect to the abolition of Argentina's policy of neutrality toward the Axis.

This latter was evident when the government of President Pedro Ramirez was pledged to an international policy of "neutrality for the present" and "loyal co-operation with nations of the Americas in conformance with existing pacts."

The Ramirez regime succeeded the brief provisional government of Gen. Arturo Rawson, who resigned after ousting isolationist President Ramon S. Castillo in an army-supported revolution.

Scanning the new government's personnel for possible clues as to future international policy, observers noted that President Ramirez's new cabinet included eight military men to only one civilian.

PACIFIC:

U. S. Airmen Strike

Allied airmen continued to strike heavy blows at Jap positions from the Aleutians clear across the Pacific to Central China.

Kiska was again the target of the Aleutians assault, with Allied Liberator and Vega Ventura's joining in the battering drive against this last enemy outpost in the archipelago. Over in the Solomons, Choiseul island and the Munda air bases were attacked by American planes. In New Guinea, Allied attack planes supporting ground forces in the Mubo area strafed enemy positions on strategic Green's Hill.

American and Chinese air superiority in the middle Yangtze valley continued to be manifest, as flyers from both forces swept over the Hupsh-Hunan battle area without meeting opposition.

FATHERS:

Work or Fight Mixup

A misunderstanding over the details of the War Manpower commission's "work or fight" edict had been responsible for the induction of some fathers into military service in violation of draft regulations, WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt revealed.

Mr. McNutt pointed out that the "work or fight" order had directed that fathers and others of draft age with dependents be inducted if they were employed in any of the 70 "nondeferrable" occupations listed by the War Manpower commission. Selective service regulations prohibit the drafting of fathers not in deferrable jobs.

PLEDGE:

'Exploitation's End'

A world freed from international exploitation was listed by President Roosevelt as one of the postwar objectives of the United Nations.

The President declared that better use of human and natural resources must be assured in the post-war world. If living standards are raised, continuing, "and I may add—the better use of these resources without exploitation by any nation."

Speaking to delegates from the recent United Nations Food conference, Mr. Roosevelt summed up "our ultimate objective" in this manner:

"It is to build for ourselves—meaning all men, everywhere—a world in which each individual human being shall have the opportunity to live out his life in peace; to work productively, earning at least enough for his actual needs and those of his family; to associate with the friends of his choice; to think and worship freely; and to die secure in the knowledge that his children, and their children shall have the same opportunities."

SLAUGHTER:

Nazis Massacre Dutch

Out of tightly censored Holland came news of fresh Nazi atrocities. These latest reports concerned the killing of thousands of Dutch citizens in mass executions following a general strike that had halted all activity for nearly a week. They were made public by the Office of War Information.

Allied sources learned that the strike had started when Nazi authorities announced that all members of the former Dutch army paroled in 1940 would be sent to Germany to work in Nazi war factories. Within an hour, reports said, factories, shops, public offices and even courts stopped. Within a few hours public services and transportation ceased to function.

Ruthless executions then were undertaken by the Germans. Bodies of the slain Dutch patriots were left where they fell in public squares and outside cities. Work resumption was eventually ordered by "Good Patriots" in order to avoid further slaughter.

AIR FREIGHT:

Plans for Future

Prophetic of the future, the civil aeronautics board received a request for a charter for a vast network of aerial freight lines serving the United States and many foreign countries.

The petitioner, the Keeshin Air Freight company, asked authority to serve 200 major cities in this country as well as many points in foreign countries through an exchange of freight at 18 "gateways."

Living Standard Low

It is well known that the living standard of the Chinese people is very low. The per capita farm land is slightly more than a half of an acre. The principal food items are rice and wheat and vegetables. There is little meat and fish. The daily diet of the average person consists of a few bowls of rice or some pieces of bread and a few vegetables.

Father of Agriculture

Thomas Jefferson came nearer than any other single person to being the father of scientific agriculture thought in the United States. He was the first man to make a plow share according to a specified design.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 20

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JOHN DESCRIBES TRUE CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—1 John 3:1-4; 3:13-15; 4:13-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.—1 John 1:7.

Religion and life go together. To hold the tenets of Christian truth in one's head and not to have them move the heart is to deny the very faith one professes. Yet this is the danger which faces the believer—a temptation before which many have fallen. The result is that much of "what passes for Christianity in these days is very thin stuff, very remote from the original" (Shoemaker).

John was not content with such a weak imitation, and in his writings he set up the true standard of a forgiven and transformed life, living itself out in love and sacrificial service. If we have forgotten what God meant us to be in Christ, or are members of a church which has strayed from the true and living way, this lesson affords an opportunity for penitence and works meet thereunto.

The true Christian life must have I. Sin Forgiven and Life Transformed (1 John 2:1-8).

Not only at the beginning of the Christian life is sin dealt with and put away, but day by day—yes, moment by moment—we have the cleansing power of the blood of our Divine Advocate.

This is of the utmost importance, for God can only use clean channels for the outflowing of His power and grace to the world. We know our own weakness and the defiling presence of the world. But unlike the unregenerate man, we do not submit and go down; we turn to Christ for forgiveness and cleansing.

The transformation of life which thus comes to the believer is shown in obedience to the commandments of God. In the early church there were those who said that if they only believed in Christ as Saviour it made no difference how they lived—and they have their followers in our day. Be sure of this, the essential thing in Christian profession is not how you talk about Christ, but how you walk in obedience to His commandments.

Real Christianity will cause us to be

II. Hated by the World and Loved by the Brethren (1 John 3:13-18).

The world, that is, unregenerate mankind, hates a genuine Christian no matter how kind and loving he may be. Why? "Because the Christian believer gives the non-believer an uncomfortable sense of inferiority. The presence of high Christian ideals in marked contrast to his own selfish policies, arouses his anger and resentment" (Douglass).

The presence of a clean, godly life in a community makes every sinner look that much blacker, and the world, the flesh, and the devil will do everything possible to break down and destroy such a testimony.

We, as Christians, should not be surprised that the world hates us. In fact, we should be troubled if it does not hate us, for if our Christianity really means anything, it is distasteful to a God-hating world. Beware if sinners find nothing in your life which distresses them and convicts them of sin.

In the midst of enmity the Christian is not afraid, for he is

III. Indwelt by God and Unafraid in the World (1 John 4:13-17).

A sincere confession of Christ as Saviour brings a man into that close relationship to God which is expressed in the words, "God abideth in him; and he in God" (v. 15).

The full depth of meaning of these words is obviously beyond our limited understanding, but we accept the fact by faith and rejoice in it. We recognize that it means that we are brought by our faith in Christ, into the very center of God's love. Christ, the well-beloved Son, who stands in that blessed place, draws us into the circle and there we stand in Him.

God's love showed itself in the giving of His Son as the Redeemer of the world. It was and is unselfish and sacrificial devotion to the eternal welfare of those who merited only judgment. We do not love until we reflect that quality in our lives.

Such love casts out fear. Fellowship is impossible in an atmosphere of fear, but love rules it out. In Christ we realize that God first loved us, and then our hearts go out in warm devotion to Him.

Not only does the Christian no longer fear the day of judgment, but he is unafraid in the present evil world. This is not because of his own strength or ability, but because through faith in Christ he is "in God," and "as He is, so are we in this world" (v. 17). No more perfect or blessed ground of assurance could possibly be provided. Let us recognize our position in Him, and be strong and unafraid.

Effel Third Highest
The Effel was built to a height of 984 feet and until the erection of the Chrysler building, 1,048 feet, and the Empire State building, 1,250 feet, both in New York, was the highest structure in the world. For decades it was proudly compared with New York's Woolworth building, 750 feet, the Washington Monument, 555 feet, Cologne cathedral, 515 feet, the Great Pyramid, 450 feet, and St. Paul's in London, 365 feet.

Gas Taxes Reduced
Statisticians attempting to determine probable effects of restricted motor vehicle use on highway finances have figured out that gasoline tax collections in 1941 (an all-high year) had increased more than 85 per cent on a national average over 1932. During this 10-year period many states saw increases of more than 100 per cent in their gasoline tax yields.

Women Work in Shipyards
Women shipyard workers receive the same pay as men engaged on similar work. The work is hard, 48 hours a week being common and in some states some women are working 50 hours a week. Turnover among women workers is very low, once the women get past the training period.

Jar Rubbers Are Different This Year

It is now thought that red rubber will be available for jar rings this year but there will be no cause for alarm if the rubbers you buy turn out to be black. It is the rubber, not the color, that counts. True, you may be a bit startled when you open your first package of the war models. "But what of it?" asks Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Bell Brothers Company. "Our grandmothers got along well enough with lipless rubbers and so can we."

Months ago, manufacturers began experiments to learn how to make jar rings that would conserve both rubber and food—the government set its scientists to the same task. One of the first things upon which all agreed was that lips are unnecessary for opening jars. The point of a thin knife can be run under the rubber to make a tiny space for air to seep through and break the seal. It is then easy to remove cap or lid. It was also agreed that jar rings could be a small fraction of an inch narrower but the thickness must remain at the pre-war standard.

War-time rubbers will keep jars sealed airtight, but they won't stand abuse. To get good results, break yourself of that never-good habit of stretching to test and follow these four simple rules:

1. Wash and rinse rubbers. Boil them to sterilize if you can fruits the old-fashioned open-kettle way. If processing is to be done, drop the rubbers in boiling water and set aside until needed.
2. Have rubbers wet when they are used—and be sure that each rubber lies flat on the sealing surface of the jar.
3. Partially seal all jars before processing.
4. Screw zinc caps and bands on glass top seal closures slowly when sealing, as quick or jerky turns cause rubbers to slip out of position.

Power Cars With Wood
The gasoline shortage might be effectively relieved if the United States followed the European example of burning wood to power their cars. It is estimated that $6 worth of wood is the equivalent of $80 worth of gasoline.

ONLY A FEW WORDS—
BUT THEY MEAN SO MUCH

Under what is commonly known among publishers as the "masthead," all newspapers that have qualified for transmission through the U. S. mail as second-class matter, are printed these words:

"Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at . . . under the Act of March 3, 1879."

These few words are the guarantee that the subscriber and advertiser alike are doing business with a recognized and legitimate newspaper.

Other information that must be carried in every issue includes: Title, date of issue, frequency of issue, serial number, known office of publication, subscription price, and notice of entry as second-class matter, as stated above.

Earning a second-class rating and entry is not easy. Sec. 520, Postal Laws and Regulations, states that newspapers accorded the privilege "must be originated and published for the dissemination of information of a public character, or devoted to literature, arts, or some special industry, and having a legitimate list of subscribers." "Nothing herein shall be so construed as to admit to the second class rate regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates."

A "legitimate list" of subscribers shall consist of (Sec. 526) . . . Such persons as have subscribed for the publication for a definite time . . . and have paid for it a substantial sum as compared with the advertised subscription price.

A newspaper entered as second-class matter goes free through the mail in the county of publication. Sec. 543. "Publications of the second class, one copy to each actual subscriber, residing in the county where the same are printed, in whole or in part, and published, shall go free through the mails. . . . However postage must be paid on copies going to post offices having letter-carrier service."

Thus among the so-called newspapers that are denied the second-class mailing privilege are those having no legitimate subscription list, and (Sec. 527) Publications designed primarily for advertising purposes . . . whose circulation is mainly gratuitous.

The words, "Entered as second-class mail matter" appearing in your newspaper is your guarantee of genuine merit. It means a "legitimate list" of subscribers, and an honest purpose of "disseminating information of a public character."

And who pays the postage on those sheets that have not, and can not qualify for the second-class mailing privilege? You guessed it—the advertisers, of course.

The Fourth Term bandwagon, with Harry Hopkins handling the reins, is moving on schedule. William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party, told a Communist rally in Chicago to support it.

James N. Landis, of the New Deal bureaucracy, says "true Americanism is the Americanism of the Four Freedoms." And what has become of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights?

Fulton Lewis, Jr., radio commentator, says FDR forgot to include in his Four Freedoms the one that has made America great—Freedom of Private Enterprise. So what? Wards of the state will have no fear (except fear of their masters) and they will not want (under the social security plan of about $22 a month); so we won't need private enterprise. All you will need to do to qualify for the gov. bounty is vote right and kiss some bureaucratic every pay day.

Vice President Wallace maybe went to South America so that no one would ask him about his "ever normal granary." Or the little pigs.

The masses are tired of living on promises that have failed to materialize in ten years under the New Deal, says the Ft. Lauderdale News. "The old hoax-pocus of being 'drafted' for president is stale. President Roosevelt has not only passed the stage of usefulness, he has never achieved that eminent position. . . . A fourth term? A fifth term? Is this what we are fighting for? Definitely not."

Keep Vitamins In Home-Canned Tomatoes

The tomato rates respect because it is chockful of vitamins (A and C), those invisible spark plugs that keep one feeling fit.

Because tomatoes are an important food, it is imperative that every one not needed for immediate use be saved by canning, but they must be canned right, else there will be

Little or no vitamin C left in them. Undue exposure to air after the skins are removed and over-cooking in an uncovered container destroy vitamin C. This is one reason that tomatoes should be prepared and canned as quickly as possible. Usually whole tomatoes have more food value than tomato juice, partly because a considerable amount of vitamin A is lost in the pulp that fails to go through the strainer when the juice is made, but mainly because greater exposure to air destroys vitamin C.

If you want first-class canned tomatoes, use freshly gathered, firm-ripe, sound fruit—one small bad spot can ruin a whole batch. Wash the tomatoes before scaling; seal a few at a time. Remove all core, slip off the skins, and cut away green spots. Pack the tomatoes tight into clean hot jars—this is best done by pressing each tomato down with a wooden spoon. Add salt to season to suit your taste—the usual amount is one teaspoon to the quart. Seal jars according to manufacturer's instructions and process 35 minutes in hot water bath. If tomatoes are not fresh from the garden, process 45 minutes.

No juice can be better than the fruit from which it is made, so be sure to use strictly fresh, firm-ripe, red tomatoes, which are free from mold decay. Wash well and cut away any green spots or weather cracks. Weather cracks are those splits that form around the stem ends when hot sunshine follows a hard rain. Such tomatoes are unfit for canning or juice unless used immediately after picking. Leave the tomatoes whole and steam or bake them until they are soft; then press through a fine sieve, preferably a cone-shaped one; reheat the juice to simmering; pour into sterilized jars and process 30 minutes at simmering. The pulp will separate from the juice unless a very fine sieve is used or if too much heat is applied at any time. Oh, so you boil the juice in an open kettle until it is thick? Well, that's a fine way to get rid of most of those precious vitamins.

The best tasting juice is that made by pressing whole home-canned tomatoes through a sieve just before serving. Any seasonings liked may be added before canning but the juice will be better if seasonings, except salt, are added when the juice is opened for serving, and even the salt may be left out.
